

Malachi 4:5-6

He will restore the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers, so that I will not come and smite the land with a curse.

One of the greatest blessings that we experience here at the Camp is the restoration of families that were once destroyed by drug addiction. The DMC community celebrated July 4th on Saturday, June 30th, so the families of the men could come on Friday night and have extra time together as a family. Brian and Virginia Neener organized the festivities along with help from the SLT class, and they all did a great job. There were plenty of fun and games for the men and their families, along with good food and fellowship. For many of the wives and children this was a first for them. It was the first time that they had ever spent a holiday with their husbands and fathers without the presence of alcohol or drugs. It was also the first time that they had spent together enjoying each other, making good memories that would last a lifetime. The Lord has definitely changed the hearts of each family member as He is restoring the families to what He wants them to be. We thank all of you who support us in prayer and contributions. We can thankfully report that all bills have been paid and we remain debt free, except for the one that can never be repaid.

Reconciliation of families

It has been a great blessing to participate in the Fourth of July celebration at Dunklin. The kids were able to enjoy this day, and we are very grateful to have had this opportunity with them. We thank God for Dunklin and for the restoration of our family.

The Independence Day celebration at Dunklin this year was a wonderful change to what the holidays used to be. In my addiction, I did not care about anyone but myself. On holidays I isolated and thought only about how I could use. Since I have been here at Dunklin the Lord has changed my heart and my desires. I desire with all of my heart to be the father and husband the Lord wants me to be. He blessed me and used the Independence Day celebration to show me how much joy and love I have for my family. I am so thankful we had this opportunity to spend a sober holiday together and to etch memories into our minds that will last a lifetime. I thank the Lord and Dunklin for this, and I look forward to what He has in store for my family in the future. ~ Alex Burton

Through the grace of God, Dunklin made my dream holiday come true. The Independence Day celebration was a day I will remember for years to come. This was the first holiday that my children and I spent with my husband completely sober. His full focus was on us and our happiness in celebrating this day together. When we played games as a family, he was attentive to us instead of wondering what others would think if we lost. Now, instead of dreading the holidays, I can't wait to see what joyful memories the Lord will have for us next.

The events of the Fourth of July celebration gave me, as a husband and father, the opportunity to spend quality time with my family. Participating in the sack race and watching my daughter do the same was priceless. I know we made some memories that will last a lifetime. I am consistently blown away by the dedication that Dunklin has to restoring and regenerating my family. God has done a mighty work in our family and the Fourth of July celebration reflected just how much work He truly has done.

I'm so thankful for the wonderful people at Dunklin who pulled together to make the Fourth of July celebration happen. The children had so much fun and some great memories were made. I personally enjoyed the grown men jumping around in potato sacks! Thank you Dunklin for giving my family a great weekend. You continue to amaze me at how much you care for me and my children as well as my husband.
